Seani Love

Talk

Becoming a straight cisgender male sex worker

Seani Love talks about his path from being a software engineer through to making a full time living in the sex industry. He describes a lot of what he's learned and the mistakes he's made so that those who follow do not have to make the same mistakes.

Workshop

Consensual non consent

Why is forced sex such a powerfully charged fantasy? How can we surrender to the forced sex fantasy but still stay in control? Can such powerful surrender lead to any kind of spiritual growth? What can people with trauma do to open up the healing process? Most importantly, how can consensual non-consent be explored safely and with maximum fun?

Seani Love is a discreet, professional, fun-loving erotic adventurer and sex worker who works with intimacy, erotic ritual, NeoTantra and other forms of sacred sexuality.

Seani loves exploring the dark places of the human shadow as much as the light. His expertise is in taking my clients and groups on journeys into bliss, surrender and empowerment using the tools of Conscious Kink, Sacred Sexuality, Consent and Boundaries, Sex Magick and more.

Seani lives in London and Berlin but travel extensively running workshops and private sessions for my many amazing clients. In 2015 he was awarded the UK Sex Worker of the Year.

Sonja Reifenhäuser

Sanya Alaya is a Berlin based Sexual Empowerment Coach, Tantric Bodyworker, Somatic Sexologist, Sensual Kinkster, Pleasure Activist, gypsy and dance addict.

For the last two and half years she has been travelling the world, learning from various teachers and growing into her purpose. In her 1:1 sessions and workshops she uses techniques and tools from Tantra, Tao, Shadow work, Conscious Kink, Tantra Massage, Chi Nei Tsang, Dearmouring, Coaching, Breathwork and Meditation.

Her heart mission is to support men and women to overcome their traumas, fears and shame that hold them back from living a powerful, sensual and loving life. She is all about bringing people back into their bodies, back to pleasure and empowering you to love yourself, unravel conditioning and not hold back with fully expressing who YOU truly are.

Workshop Saturday

Tantric Dominance & Submission

This workshop is a journey from your senses, to your body, to being your own (and best) kinky lover <3

Explore your kinky lover within and connect to your sensuality in a place of self discovery.

Feeling yourself is the most important thing, if you want to go into safe and deep connection with others.

Finding out who we are and who we want to be when it comes to intimacy. Developing our own kinky touch language. Using tantric tools for more depth.

If we want to be sensual and kinky with others, we should know how to be sensual and kinky with ourselves, right?

Come with me and take yourself into a deeper state of understanding your own sexuality.

Davide La Greca-Maestro BD

Workshop Saturday

Rope connection

This workshop have the objective to teach how to enter in contact with your model, placement and preparing the body for the tying. Using the hand for giving pain and pleasure.

You could learn how to deep your connection with your partner with ropes.

Davide La Greca - AKA MaestroBD, is an unusual kinbakushi and a Bondage and Shibari Teacher, only Italian Certified Instructor of Yukimura Ryu Kinbaku style. He is also an events organizer and a BDSM educator.

MaestroBD teaches bondage and BDSM technique from 2004, offering workshop everywhere from Sicily to Reykjavik (Iceland), giving lesson about Safety, Shibari and BDSM essays.

Today MaestroBD is one of the best shibari teachers in Italy, runs seven Shibari Dojo in Italy: Rome, Milan, Pavia, Turin, Firenze Padova and Bologne, and gives private tuition.

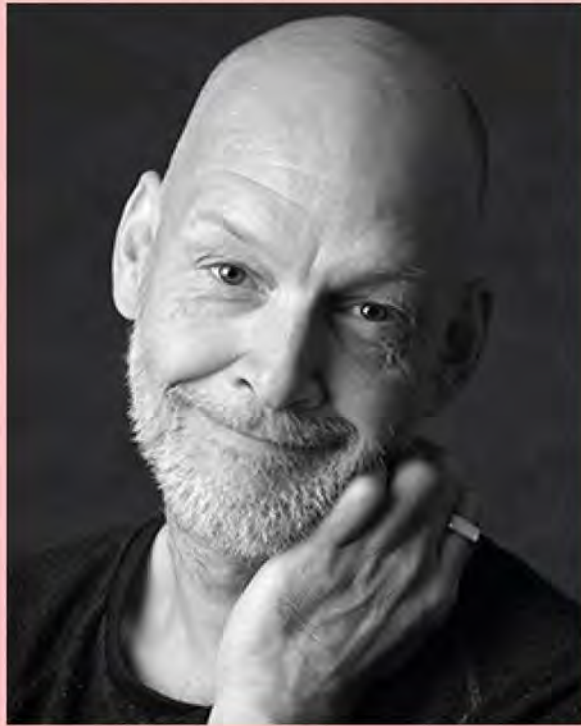

Performance Saturday @ the Ball

MaestroBD is a performer, bringing theatrical show all around Italy and Europe, with some shows in the far east, first and only Italians that make a participation at Onawa Asobi in Tokyo in 2016 and 2019.

He's also resident performer in several parties and events around Europe, bringing on stage the art of shibari and theatrical Bondage.

Felix Ruckert

Talk

The Future is bright

A reflection on the development of Conscious Kink in Germany, especially Berlin, where we came from, what has been achieved so far and where we will go next...

www.felixruckert.de

Felix Ruckert is a dancer, choreographer, conceptual artist and curator. He creates events, performs, gives lectures and teaches workshops, often fusing his knowledge from dance with a unique approach to practices of BDSM and conscious sexuality. He also enjoys making music.

He started as a dancer working with several renowned companies (Mathilde Monnier, Pina Bausch's Wuppertaler Tanztheater) before concentrating on choreography, conceptual work and choreographic installations.

In the last twenty years he became well known for his practical and theoretical investigation of BDSM and the exploration of connections between BDSM techniques and artistic practices, developing an art of touch and a philosophy of sensual communication.

Janina Vivianne

Talk Friday

S+ Community Europe
Introducing the Team behind the Project. And presenting the Event, our Vision, & our Goals of the Association Sex-positiv eV.

With the possibility to ask Questions about the Sex-positive Community Europe Project.

www.sex-positive.com

Janina is working in Europe to spread sex-positivity and awareness regarding safer sex. She is the creator of The Parallel Universe - An Adult Playground and founded Sex-Aware /a Safer Sex Association to promote sexual health, tests and disease prevention. She co-created The Intimate Revolution festival, a sex-positive, kink-loving festival. She also is the driving force behind The Sex-positive Community Europe project and sex-positive.com, a platform for information about sex-positivity in all of Europe.

Filled with energy and enthusiasm, she spreads her knowledge on European summer festivals, in community spaces and on sex-positive parties. She holds workshops on connection, sex-positivity and gives educational talks on Safer sex, STIs and "Love with more than Two".

Her vision is to create a strong platform for an European sex-positive movement. A movement which encourages a community nurtured by trust and mutual respect, creating SafeR Spaces where people of all genders and identities can safely explore and express their sexuality and connection.

Fehu Freyjadóttir

Talk Friday

Primordial Liquids - Female Ejaculation

Primordial Liquids is a talk series about our bodily fluids. In this episode I will share some of my wisdom and knowledge as well as experiences and research results on Female Ejaculation with you. It will be as juicy as it sounds.

Workshop Saturday

Your Sensual Wild

This workshop is an exploration of your senses. It's a deep dive into the source of your being and the origin of your primal and animalistic self. Your senses and primordial instincts are your guideposts for deep felt and experienced sensuality. Your sensual wild is an invitation to explore things outside of your comfort zone and to expand beyond what society makes us believe is acceptable and appropriate. (The workshop includes a range of movements and sounds.)

www.sex-positive.com/fehu

Fehu Freyjadóttir teaches workshops all around the world on the subjects of conscious sexuality, sensuality, and all things primal. She facilitates ritual experiences and loves to dive deep into the mystical from a grounded position that cultivates presence as a refined awareness of the here and now. Fehu studies Core Energetics (body-oriented psychology) and is a qualified Vølva, Sex Positive Educator, Slow Sex & Sensuality Mentor, as well as Life & Intimacy Coach. Her primary work is a synthesis of these approaches that guides clients forward into the depths of their own being: restoring connection to their most authentic, primal, and sensual self while activating full and uninhibited self-expression.

Ruby

Jon

Ruby May has been professionally exploring the realms of the erotic since 2004, when she began designing and producing a range of burlesque and fetish accessories in London. In 2010 after moving to Berlin, she was one of the first people to train as a sexological bodyworker in Europe, spent several years working as a sex worker and Tantric Domina and supporting the emerging field of 'Conscious Kink,' offering workshops internationally. In 2014 she toured with her project Elsewhere, a sex-positive experiment in co-creation, self-expression and connection to seven European cities. In 2015 she co-founded 'Authentic Eros: Creating New Culture' with her colleague Kai Ehrhardt and in 2017 won a Sexual Freedom Award for her work in somatic sex education. Her other projects include Know Your Flow, an online mentoring program on Cyclical Living, Sensing the Change, a bringing together of activists and specialists in Somatics to explore embodied activism, and Lucid, a transformative culture community gathering in Berlin. She is co-curating the 2020 Art of Love festival in Berlin.

Ruby May and Jon Darrall-Rew are facilitators who run events in the transformational and sex positive scene in Berlin and internationally. They share a passion for eros, embodiment, leadership, and the intersection between sex-positivity and how this can contribute to positive change in the wider world.

Jon Darall-Rew is a transformational leader, mentor, facilitator and father living just outside his beloved home city of Berlin, Germany. In terms of his projects, he leads Shamballa School, an international spiritual community focussed on awakening to the life-force of spirit. Between 2016-2018 he worked as European Director of the Global Purpose Movement, and between 2011-2014 he co-lead the Global Cooperative Forum project in Switzerland that focussed on how social transformation happens on the basis of spiritual awakening. He is a leadership consultant, has a degree in psychology, mentors people around the world supporting their transformation, and runs events focussed on such topics as power and leadership, consciousness evolution, love and relating, trauma, embodiment and sexuality. In Berlin he leads Return of the Temples, which runs regular sacred sexuality temples.

Talk Friday
Eros Emerging

Our talk will reflect on the history and ongoing emergence of the sex-positive movement, its shadows and its potential for collective healing and systems change, and an introduction to an event we are hosting next year on these themes, for facilitators.

Anir Leben

Anir is a Berlin based dancer and musician, teaching and hosting workshops and events for contact improvisation, conscious dance, rituals and sensuality.

Through dance improvisation she learned a lot about different states and tools of being present and about diving deeper into active listening, which enriched her work on many levels. She has been exploring sex-positive spaces for several years now, but still considers herself rather new to it. She is striving to contribute by bringing softness and mindfulness into the space and the beautiful quality of her "beginners" mindset.

Talk Friday

Listening into Sound & Silence

How can an Improv-Mindset help you in a S+ positive space?
How can it enhance your ability to listen and tune into the present moment?

There's a connection between Sound and Silence and the qualities of using them as a tool to become more present to what is.

Workshop Saturday

BodyVoice

We will be tuning into our bodies through breath and feeling the pull of gravity, meditate our way to more movement and play with opening and closing our eyes as we tone and breathe together. By ourselves or in a circle, we will be finding dynamics as one instrument; activating, soothing and stimulating our senses.

Lilith Liberation

Talk

Gospel of the Holy Whore

Embarking on a brief journey from the dawn of time to its end (and back again) we will discover the hidden HER-STORY of the Holy Whore. Evoking Ancient Memories of Mysteries, Priests, Prophets and Prostitutes. Encountering Various Visions of Apocalypse, the relevance of this tale to our times shall be told, introducing "Opening the Gates of Mercy" project.

Workshop

Yoni Dance

Entering into a lost Temple, we will explore our innermost sensuality with the worship of the Goddess. Embodying Her, we will offer our breathe, our sweat and our ecstasy on the altar of our bodies. We will drink the nectar of our hidden alchemy and awaken, stimulate and regenerate our Yoni, in a juicy offering dance...Come ye ladies! Hop on thy broomstick! Join us in this wild dance..

Lilith Liberation is a Tantrika, Shamaness, Witch, Author, Ritual Artist and Sacred Activist and certified therapist, bodyworker and herbalist, whose integrated healing approach incorporates authentic Tantra, with Shamanism, Alchemy and Art.

Her journey with Tantra began through a mystical revelation of the Great Goddess from which there was no turning back: for two decades afterwards she has been on a quest to uncover Tantra's hidden roots, dedicated to discovering it's suppressed ancient matriarchal source. She pioneered the reconstruction of the wisdom practices of the lost feminine lineages of original Tantra, introducing them with the "HOLY WHORE" cycle of teachings back in 2011 .

She lived for nearly a decade in India and Nepal, devoted to rigorous study and practice of traditional Tantra. She was confirmed as a Shamaness by indigenous Shaman elders in Korea, Cambodia and Nepal, most notably by Aama Bombo the elder Tamang Shamaness of the International council of the Thirteen Indigenous Grandmothers. Today she continues this work with OPENING THE GATES OF MERCY : A visionary, esoteric resistance, education and sacred art project, addressing the healing and system change necessary for the personal, collective, intergenerational and planetary trauma of an aeon of patriarchal domination, warfare and abuse of the erotic.

Daniel Bernhard

Talk Friday
WTF is Ecosexuality?! ...and what can it be?

When we think of Ecosex, the first image that comes to mind for many is some hippies humping a tree. Fair enough. For me, discovering Ecosex, becoming a Lover to the Earth, sensually interacting with Nature (being Nature myself) was the single most important practice in my journey of Sexual Healing and Liberation. It led me to redefine my whole idea of sexuality, rewired my erotic currents to move beyond sexual trauma – and helped me to reconnect to nature, two healing tasks that we are also facing as a collective in these transformative times. This talk will give a little glimpse into my work with sexual healing, planetary healing and humour.

Workshop Saturday
Temple of Almost-Touching

Creating a bubble of hyper-awake, super-slow, tendermost, soft movement and touch. Taking out any rush, relaxing into the moment, allowing our orgasmic nature to unfold without pushing. There is also a kinky moment to it, playing with teasing, withholding and anticipation. Going as slow as the slowest part of us, sensing how we are feeling step by step. Everyone is welcome. Explicitly inviting queer folk to this queer-facilitated workshop.

Daniel Bernhard is a healing artist, pop-up retreat center and traveling love temple from west Germany. When he isn't busy putting on emancipatory rituals in theatres and museums, where he works as a performance artist, director and writer, Daniel loves to facilitate spaces for healing and sensual exploration, guided by simplicity and softness as much as primal wildness and free expression.

In the sexpositive field he is currently most excited about building bridges between queer and mainstream sexual liberation (for example with his workshop "Every Body's Queer - A Journey From Barbie To Hulk And Back") and, for many years, he's been introducing people to Ecosexuality, a growing movement that aims to create a sensual love relationship with the planet and all their beings, very much inspired by the work of his Ecosex Parents, the artist and pleasure activist couple Annie Sprinkle and Beth Stephens.

For Easter 2020, he is going to present his first ECOSENSUAL RETREAT at Spitzmühle close to Berlin.

Talk:
From Pain to Pleasure

Feeling like living a life that is not mine. Not me. Disease. Stress. Depression. Eating disorder. Sexual trauma. The feeling of not belonging and being different. In this talk I will share with you my journey from pain to pleasure. How I shifted, what worked and what YOU can do to experience more flow and joy! - Physically, emotionally, spiritually and sexually :)

Sanya Alaya is a Berlin based sexual empowerment coach, tantric bodyworker, somatic sexologist, sensual kinkster, pleasure activist, gypsy and dance addict. For the last two and a half years she has been travelling the world, learning from various teachers and growing into her purpose. In her 1:1 sessions and workshops she uses techniques and tools from Tantra, Tao, Shadow work, Conscious Kink, Tantra massage, Chi Nei Tsang, De-armouring, coaching, Breathwork and meditation. Janie- Tantra Mama

I am Janie ::: Tantra Mama. I am a Tantric Sex and Relationship coach and I mainly work with conscious parents who want to raise empowered kids in a sex and body positive environment and who want to thrive sexually themselves.

Talk Friday

Kids in a sex and body-positive environment

I would love to share 5 key points in raising empowered kids in a sex and body positive environment.

Workshop Saturday

5 Senses Awakening -
Tantric ritual for couples

Join this delicious tantric ritual for couples who want to deepen their connection, drop into a playful connection with all the senses and be in pure presence and bliss with each other.

Volker Schmidt

Discussion Friday

"Sex as usual" vs.
"Sex worth wanting"

The "sex" in "sex positivity" is not what most people would call "sex as usual". Or maybe: Not yet. The "sex" we talk about here is what we call "sex really worth wanting". But what exactly are the differences between one and the other? How can we make sex great again?

Talk Friday

Why we (really!) should take our sexuality seriously. What science knows about sex.

Culture tells us, sex is the most beautiful incidental thing in the world. This sounds nice, but is this true? What could science tell us about sex and its impacts? ... On our immune system, our health and wellbeing? ... On our fitness and attractiveness? ... On our happiness in love? ... And even on our mental capacities and emotional skills? Science could tell us things that might turn our view on sexuality.

Born 1976, raised and educated in catholic capitalistic value systems. Diploma of Environmental Sciences. Father of three kids. Author of „untervögelt – Macht zu wenig (guter!) Sex uns hässlich, krank und dumm?“ („underfucked – does too little (good!) sex make us ugly, ill and dumb?“). Sexpositive systemic Love-Coach.

Dion De Rossio

Talk

The rise of the modern sex-witch; harnessing your sexual power through ritual and magic

The witch has long been celebrated, feared and punished as a symbol of sexual power, femme/female autonomy and an inherent threat to patriarchy. In a society that shames women and femmes for their sexuality, many of us have lost our connection to the ancient practice of Sex Magick and in turn been cut off from our most powerful form of magic – our erotic energy and orgasm.

This talk will dive into a brief history of Sex Magick and the way in which the archetype of the witch is being reclaimed by people of all genders to access their sexual power and connect to their sacred selves. I will also discuss how I use Sex Magick in my own life and provide ideas on how to create your own rituals and manifest positive change through the power of your sexuality.

Dion De Rossi is a queer, femme, non-binary porn performer and sexological bodyworker with seven years experience giving enthusiastic and gender affirming head on camera. As a professional pervert they are most satisfied when helping others unlock their pleasure potential and want to guide you in your journey of becoming the most confident, sexually empowered person you can be through creating sex-positive parties, screenings and events in Berlin.

Alessandro Pedori

Workshop Saturday Conversations down there

Alex gave up deciding what to do as a grown up and chose instead to mix worlds and domains. He is passionate about the social aspect of technology and, conversely, the technological aspects of social interactions, collecting projects and techniques that let people shine and communities grow. Out of the desire to get people to share practical knowledge, to teach and learn from each other in domains that are often opaque, he started collecting tools that developed into the project "Relationship Cookbook". Alex mostly lives in Berlin (where he can sometimes be found for even a few weeks at a time), where he enjoys the wide range of what is normal here, the different subcultures, and the mix of people.

Sex is great, and sex can be terrible, and sex is for sure confusing as fuck (pun? What pun?) For that, there are workshops, and techniques: so many that it gets even more confusing. What if that ""sure fire"" doesn't fire, doesn't sure, and backfires for sure? Let's talk: we'll present some techniques, talk about them, exchange experiences, success, failures, and improvements. We'll be informative, non-normative, non-prescriptive, as gender-fluid as we can, and not very serious.

Kata

Talk

Communal responsibility

-when members violate community rules

It's common to ban people from attending future events if they misbehave or violate community rules. The same applies both for sex positive spaces and party environments. But what is our role as a community to support these people in their journey? Maybe it's the moment when support and understanding is

Workshop

Reclaim Your Narrative

Are you aware of the story you tell yourself? What's the tone? Do you value your needs the same way you value the needs of others? How does this narrative effect the way you see yourself?

This workshop is offering a space to connect with yourself and others. A great way to start your evening by increasing awareness of how we might value our desires or share the story of ourselves in sex-positive environments and parties.

Using movement, meditation, pair and group exercises.

I'm fascinated by human connections; intimacy, sex and authenticity. Recently my curiosity has been revolting around questions of how we navigate in the roles we assume, of what our narrative is and of how to hold multiple perspectives.

My mission is to bring more joy and pleasure into the world through movement, workshop facilitation and co-creations.

I'm a certified integral facilitator and an engineer (M.Sc.).

Jennifer Kunstreich

Talk

Friday

Blaue Blume

At the beginning there is magic ... and then? About the epos of freedom and depth ...

The Blaue Blume allows herself explicitly the romantic point of view in this context. Also asks for the connection-oriented needs, as well as for the joy of liberation in sexual expression. We have called our field a sensuality-positive space, because the Blaue Blume is the symbol of the longing for an unbreakable connection.

There is still a mystery to solve between freedom and depth ... hidden somewhere in the field of tension between free pleasure

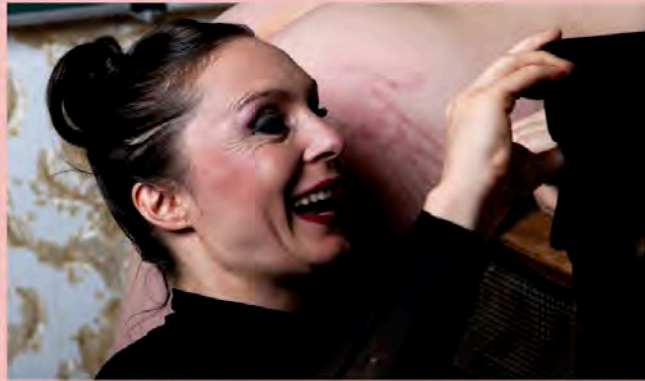

Jennifer Kunstreich M.A. is a humanities scholar - she has studied cultural anthropology, religious studies and art history in Göttingen and cultural documentary filming and photography as well. This was followed by periods of teaching at the Universities of Göttingen and Würzburg, the establishment of an own film production company, work as a clown and as a theater-, media- and nature educator.

Today, Jennifer has brought all her interests and passions together in building the "Blaue Blume"-movement, taking care of the blossoming of a joyful, sensuous "re-enchantment of the world".

"Do you know what, Jenny? I think in the end it's always about love here!" A friend entrusted these words to me like a secret - in line at the buffet in the break at a sex-positive event.

The sex-positive movement has already gone through several waves at different times in different contexts, the current wave is very reflective in many ways, it is communication-oriented and sensitive. and adventure and the longing for acceptance and attachment ...

Lady Velvet Steel

BDSM has been part of my life since my teenager years. I became a professional sex worker in 2006/2007, since then I have been working as a classical dominatrix, first all over Germany but now in my own studio LUX in Berlin.

My work ethic is all about empathy for my client's desires, to constantly develop and grow as a person, to reflect on my techniques and my knowledge. I was happy to meet wonderful colleagues in my career who were eager to share their wisdom. It feels like not has come my time, to pass on knowledge and teach.

My workshops are primarily focused on professional work, but are also interesting for newbies and interested ones. For me, it is not only about teaching "best practice" and clean techniques but also to teach about understanding our playpartners, their motivation & their desire.

An intimate and safe atmosphere are for me as important as a warm appreciation of my participants. I like to teach theoretical background knowledge accompanied by practical and creative experience.

Workshop Saturday

Spanking for Beginner FLINT* friendly

beginners workshop for spanking in the bedroom. What's it about, what's it for, what are techniques and how to do it safely. We will explore the sensual side and dive into classic OTK punishments. Perfect, if you want to try it for the first time or improve your technique.

Luna Agneya

Talk

Trauma aware sex-positivity

How do we explore while nurturing our nervous system, getting to know our boundaries without going over them? And how do we avoid re-traumatizing those with a history of trauma in workshops and play spaces? How can we use sex positive spaces to heal and hold the space for those who are on their healing journey? We'll talk about the nervous system, sexual projections and the path of healing.

Dan Apus Monoceros

Dan Apus Monoceros is the founder of the gay-BDSM.club, the Kinky in Wonderland and Apus Arts Bondage. He is BDSM and Bondage trainer, kinky Performer, event manager and activist for kinky, s+ and queer topics.

Talk

Introducing the gay-BDSM.club

The gay-BDSM.club offer workshops and education for general BDSM topics, as well as social and play events for the gay community.

In a time where gay people (kind of) arrived in the middle of the society, why is there still a need for gay BDSM events? Is gay BDSM different than straight one? What problems occur? And how can straight people benefit from gay or queer approaches or the gay-BDSM.club?

Talk

Die Teegesellschaft aus Kinky in Wonderland

Shows, talk and kink. The Teegesellschaft offers you all but tea. So come and join in a polynormal community. But what is polynormality? What's the difference to diversity? And why is it so important?

Valerie Wolf'sjaegerin

Educator, Feminist and Parent

Valerie is Vienna-based, and spends a lot of her time educating people on the topics of gender, sexuality and consent. Some of the workshops she gave have covered diversity, gender-stereotypes and consent-education with kids.

She is a political person, her feminism is queer and intersectional - or not at all! Valerie has very little tolerance and patience for ignorance, arrogance and individualism, but admires all the people who fight oppression on a daily basis.

A gender-sensitive language and awareness of power dynamics are important to her, in private and professional life. Inspired by wonderful Emma Goldman, her slogan for the event would be: "If I can't dance I don't want to be in your revolution."

Discussion Friday

Raising Kids in a Sex-positive Environment

The Discussion about sex-education and consent-education is aimed at people who engage with kids from time to time. Valerie wants to raise awareness about the concept of consent in parenting and caring for kids, as consent can (and should) be practiced from the start. Same goes for sex-education, starting to talk about sex, when a kid starts to have sex is really a bit late :)

Aleksandra & Ananda

Aleksandra Grzebalska (Poland) - A wild creative exploreress who prays in dance and love-making, visionary, polyamory activist, event-producer, MSc in Social & Cultural Psychology, ISTA graduate and organiser, space-holder at Valle de Sensaciones Eros Lab and Summer of Eros, and founder of Sacred Bliss Temple. After 11 years of self-discovery and many adventures re-imagining herself and finding community, freedom, love and empowerment she now crafts herself as an ecstatic facilitator, dedicating her life to healing and transitioning towards the Next Culture and heavenly existence on Earth.

Ananda Amit Angelo (Israel) - Is a spiritual teacher, sex shaman, leader, coach and a father of three. In his work he supports people to empowerment, pleasure and ecstatic current by letting go of guilt and shame around sexuality. His journey began as a dancer at the "Bat-Sheva" dance company exploring the GAGA movement, parallel to working as a professional guitarist. Later he lead his own dance company and choreographed with his partner for 12 years. He was the founder and leader for 7 years of the Israeli dancer's union, and took part in founding the Israeli choreographer's association and the first Tel-Aviv Waldorf school "Bait Chinuch Aviv". He is currently holding temples, retreats and workshops of sacred sexuality in Europe. He is coaching, giving body sessions, and is an apprentice facilitator at ISTA (The International School of Temple Arts). "My research in dance was mostly focused on body awareness, somatic and the present moment. The journey led me into deep practices of spirituality and consciousness.

Realising that any moment in the dance of life is a sacred expression, the unique gift of our life force, led me to tantra and sacred sexuality.

I am inviting my brothers and sisters to play freely and walk this earth shining their pleasure and light. I am here to support let go of guilt and shame, and to create with you a new culture of relating in the religion of love."

Our Project EROS • Medicine temple nights, workshops & retreats are spaces of sacred sexuality & sensuality facilitated to bring out our self-empowerment, divine nature, playfulness, freedom, pleasure, authenticity, healing, permission for full-spectrum expression & connection to each other & the whole.

Talk Friday

Medicine : Sacred sexuality or wtf is a Temple?

Who are we? What is our essence? What is the connection between presence and sacredness? Why does "the gates of heaven opens during an orgasm"? Talking about sacred sexuality and the difference between play-party and a Temple space.

Workshop Saturday

Workshop Saturday Disassembling Jealousy

Are we only disassembling and looking at the "feeling" of jealousy and maybe not being able to put it back together?

In my belief, jealousy is a made up word. What we do experience is fear of loss. The more we become aware of our bodily reactions when we "feel jealous", the more we will be able to do something about it.

We will focus on partner exercises, non-violent communication, and the two superpowers against fear: Compassion and the feeling of abundance. For if we feel joy, it will be impossible to feel fear. For singles, couples, triads and so on.

Ever since I started working with drama therapy I've been interested in relationship counseling of all kinds. And because I always found sexuality to be at the core of our being, I studied both relationship counseling and sexological bodywork in San Francisco. As a relationship counselor, I often work with monogamous couples on changing their relationship style and overcoming fear and jealousy. I never intended on working as a sexological bodyworker - I thought it would help me in my relationship with my former girlfriend. But during one of the first practice sessions while training, I discovered how a huge trauma was released from me via this work. And then I made the decision to do this as a professional. I value

Andrea

Workshop Saturday

Pain & Pleasure Massage

A hands-on exploration of pain as a functional element in massages and other types of bodywork; Pain as a chosen medium to bring about specific sensations or reactions leading to pleasure, deep relaxation, or emotional release. The workshop explores several techniques, safe and vulnerable zones, pressure points, ideation and implementation of a session including negotiation and consent. All steps are accompanied by the possibility to practice on other workshop participants through short exercises.

www.facebook.com/playfulathome

Andrea, after studying physics and education, worked as a research physicist followed by jobs in international organizations and as a security professional. To add some confusion, he decided to start bodywork and has studied Shiatsu and Tantric massage until deciding to create his own strain focused on balancing pain and pleasure.

Bodywork and sex-positivity are at the core of Andrea's civic engagement. He is now focusing on organizing low-threshold events offering non-judgemental spaces and wider access to deep emotional and sexual bodywork.

Michael Davis Tira

Talk Friday

HIV. where we came from, where we are going

In this talk we will try to clarify some of the misconceptions surrounding HIV. What it is, where did it come from and how did society react to it back in the past and nowadays. Let's discover together what are the dangers and the tools of prevention and intervention.

Workshop Saturday

Consent between sensuality and respect

"Before you asked, my mind was empty. Now it is full of fantasies, desire and anticipation!
Consent is a fundamental tool and the most fertile ground for sharing and exploration. When people perceive that their autonomy to be respected they get rid of fears for their own and others' fantasies. That is when the adventure begins.

Through practical exercises and role-playing we will discover how to integrate the culture of consent in our behavior and sexuality.

Michael Davis Tira, PhD, is a professional psychologist, LGBT+ community organizer, sex educator and proud ethical slut. Michael facilitates workshops on the topics of sexual health and well being mixing up academic theories and practical experience experience to expand participant's psychological toolbox.

Talk Friday

Realising your Growth Potential in Sex-Positive Space

Navigating your journey in a sex positive space can be demanding and sometimes painful. To have the best experience and deepest transformation possible you can stay connected to the deepest part of your being. Become intimate with the place, where you are already enough.

Les Sans-Culottes

Illu: Nienke Ka-Boom

Les Sans-Culottes is a private, sex-positive FLINT party, created and hosted by women. We are a collective with many talents and have named ourselves after the non-nobles who supported the french revolution and called themselves Sans-Culottes. Nowadays that literally means: "without panties". We too would like to bring some change to the world (and sometimes like to party without underwear). Our goal is to create a safer space for everybody who identifies as female, inter, trans, or non-binary.

Talk Friday

How do women* have sex, when men are not watching?

For about a year now, we facilitated events that consist of sex-ed workshops, sensual art exhibitions, and a mix of a dance/ play party. What did it teach us about how women play? At the talk, two members of our collective will speak about why FLINT safer spaces are important – and clear up some misconceptions about female* sexuality.

Kinky Auction Saturday

We offer two guestlist spots for the next Party on December 7th. It's a private sexpositive event for female-identified-, trans-, inter- and non-binary people. We'll also have a killer line-up, visual installations called "Juicy" and the performance "Mirror Mirror" about body image and self-acceptance.

The ice lollies can interact with its subjects physically, emotionally and intellectually. As a sensoriel experience, ice lollies can be transformative. This new sensoriel delight can be an emancipatory experience. As a viewer, the subject becomes a performer with the art piece. This either emotional or intellectual effect is what makes the ice lolly a conveyer of its own personal message. As a performer, one can interact with the viewers, share the ice lolly with a stranger and post it on social networks for expressing to an even bigger audience. A simple object can put an ordinary human being in the spotlight of the other.
